

Configuring Automatic Updates for Windows XP

You will need to have Service Pack 2 installed before following these directions. Contact your technical support staff to help with the installation of SP2.

1. Go to Start -> Control Panel
2. Double click on Automatic Updates
3. Make sure that the radial button labeled Automatic (recommended) is selected.
4. Set the time and days of the week to work around your schedule. Remember that most updates require a reboot. Since this is automatically done for you, make you close your work before the scheduled update time. AHNR-IT recommends that you schedule the updates at night, and leave your computer on all the time.
5. Click Ok when finished.
